

Ike Labels Lie to Report He Plans to Resign

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today reports he will resign before the end of his second term and turn his duties over to Vice President Nixon are the worst rot he has heard since taking office.

Eisenhower also told a news conference, in comment on his speedy trip to Gettysburg, Pa., last Friday, he has issued orders that his limousine is never to exceed the speed limit at any place.

A reporter told Eisenhower there have been reports and rumors lately that he might step out of the presidency, when world conditions permit, and have Nixon take over.

Eisenhower appeared to register some surprise. Then he said emphatically those reports are the worst rot he has heard since he had been in office.

Showing irritation, he said he knows of no reason why any speculative writer should doubt his basic integrity and honesty.

He recalled that at the time he announced for a second term he reported that his doctors felt he was able to carry on, and that he himself had decided he was able.

Eisenhower added he had no idea where the reports that he might resign came from.

Inspections Important to Firemen

Flames and smoke from burning buildings, fire trucks running about with red lights flashing, shrieking sirens, hose lines swelling with sudden surges of pressure and throngs of spectators surging to vantage points to watch, all add glamour to the work of firemen.

A less glamorous but equally important function of fire departments is that of building inspections, authorities agree.

More than 100 firemen from eight neighboring cities are taking in Hope tonight to join local firemen in a study of inspection practices.

The study course, now in its second week, is being conducted by the Fire Service Training Division of the state Department of Education with the assistance of the local fire department, the Arkansas Inspection and Rating Bureau, the National Board of Fire Underwriters and the State Fire Marshal's office, according to Hope Fire Chief A. S. Willis. Chief Willis said that classes will continue through Thursday night of this week. The local fire station is doubling as a workshop for the course.

Chief Willis pointed out that the many phases of inspection work have been grouped into several different categories and an expert in each particular field was doing the instructing.

In charge of the program this week is former West Memphis Fire Chief Whit Murphy, now an instructor with the state education department. Other program participants include Chief Willis, W. A. Turner, State Fire Instructor, Carl S. Smalley, fire prevention expert of the Arkansas Inspection and Rating Bureau, George Downing, bureau Municipal Engineer, and State Fire Marshal Thompson.

Speaking on public relations at last night's session, Mr. Thompson told the prospective firemen inspectors: "Never let it be said about you that you were in any wise discouraged to the building owner or occupant." He emphasized: "You will not be making inspections for the purpose of finding violations of the law, but rather to seek the remedying of hazardous conditions."

Instruction at the school tonight and Thursday night will be based on Fire Prevention Codes, Preparation of Permanent Inspection Records, and Written Recommendations for the Building Owner or Occupant. This phase will be handled by Mr. Downing.

Certificates will be awarded to all those successfully completing.

Spring Snows May Break Drought

By FRANK PIIMAN

DENVER (AP) — The heaviest spring snowstorm in 22 years moved out of the Rocky Mountain states today, leaving five dead and abundant water for the area pinched by drought since 1949.

Jubilant farm leaders said the stacks of snow—some as high as five feet—on the mountain watersheds more than offset any livestock losses. The parched plains were drenched with rain and snow.

Schools in Denver, Cheyenne, Wyo., and most other cities joined rural districts in closing down until tomorrow.

Rail, highway and air travel snarled and erratic for 36 hours—was due to return to normal today.

Heaviest snowfalls were reported in the mountains and in cities along the eastern slope of the Rockies. Denver measured 16 inches heaviest spring fall since 20 inches in April 1935—Colorado Springs 15, Cheyenne, Wyo., 10 and Leadville, two miles high in the central Colorado Rockies, 27 inches.

Kiwanis Club Has Variety Program

Yesterday's Hope Kiwanis club program was filled with variety that included the following:

Jokes by a Texas Baptist preacher; a plea by Rev. Virgil Keeley that Jack Moran play his future football for the University of Arkansas instead of SMU.

Young Moran was praised by Rev. Keeley as an outstanding student, leader and Christian, as well as a bright college football prospect. "Although SMU is a Methodist school, there's no place like Arkansas, and we need Jack to represent our section of the state at Arkansas," Rev. Keeley said.

Razorback Coach Jack Mitchell made a surprise appearance at the club, as did Kiwanis Lt.-Gov. Dr. Frank Irwin of Magnolia. Other guests: Marvin Sterrett of Magnolia; William Pollen of El Dorado; Ralph Lehman, Jr., of Hope. A. L. Heflin, new manager of West Department store, was introduced as a new member.

"Kiwanian of the Week" award went to Eddie Whitman, chairman of the Kiwanis minstrel committee for his outstanding work in the recent minstrel.

Yarbrough Win in Texas Gives Demos Control

By ROBERT E. FORD

DALLAS (AP) — Democrats nailed down control of the U. S. Senate today with a victory by Ralph Yarbrough over 18 other candidates.

The affable Yarbrough, 55, came back from four previous election defeats to swamp another Democrat, the nationally known Rep. Martin Dies of Un-American Activities Committee fame, and the GOP hopeful, Thad Hutchison, his only close opponents.

Republicans had high hopes of winning with Hutchison and taking over Senate leadership. The Democrats have a paper-thin 49-47 edge there now. A GOP victory would have created a 49-48 tie. Vice President Nixon would have the tiebreaking vote.

Only Routine Issues Aired by Council

Hope City Council last night took initial steps to divert money from two city departments to the police department.

The group voted to credit the police department for work of prisoners, plus board bills during the time they work out fines. The prisoners are worked by the street department. In the future the sum of $7 per day per prisoner, this includes allowance for work and board, will be charged against the street department and the police department will receive credit.

And the council discussed but took no action on a proposal to credit the police department with parking meter fines collected. Actually the police do the work but the street department gets the money for fines.

In other action the group passed an ordinance making Park a bird sanctuary; decided to approach the Highway Department about a four-way stop at Hazel and East Second Streets; voted to ask F. B. Ward to continue as parking meter officer until the end of the vacation period — Mr. Ward plans to retire.

Turned over to the Sewer Committee the matter of aiding the Gospel Lighthouse Church in laying a sewer line approximately 200 feet; turned down an appeal from Carter Sutton to reduce fire department charges from $100 to $30, a fee set up by the city for sending fire trucks outside the city limits and discussed disturbances at the Youth Center and finally turned the matter over to the Parks and Recreation Department.

Mrs. J. W. Turner, 86, Dies at Home at Spring Hill

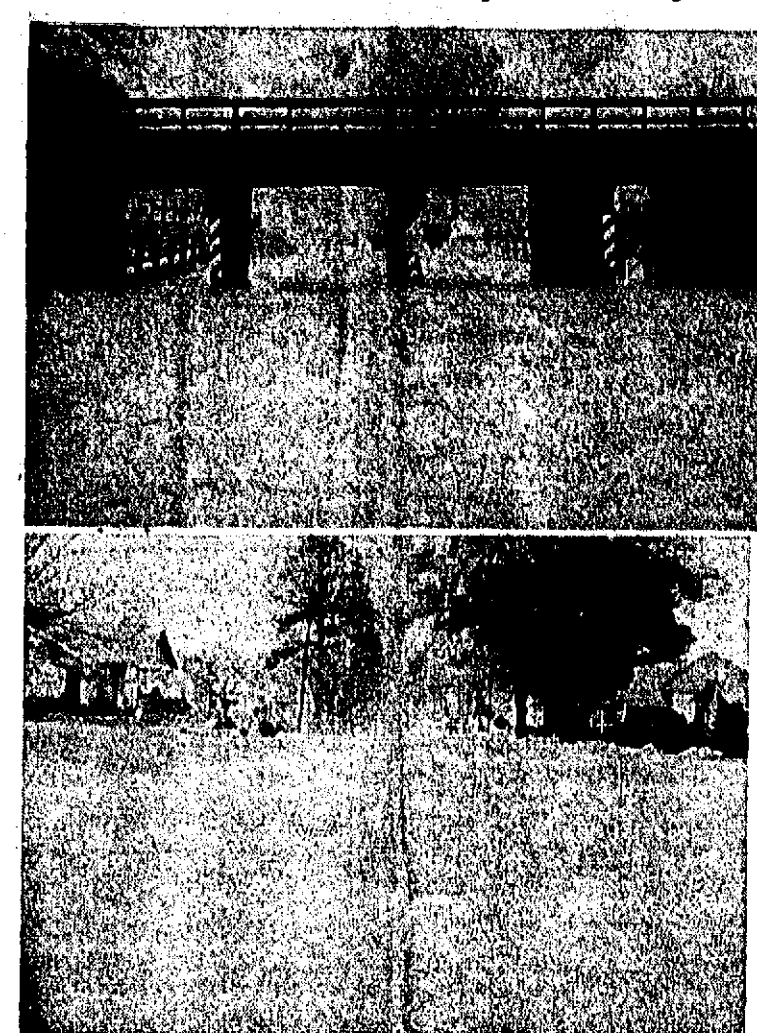

Mrs. J. W. Turner, aged 86, a longtime resident of Hemphstead died at her home Tuesday at "Spring Hill."

She is survived by three sons, F. F. Turner of Spring Hill, George of Bastrop, La., and Robert C. Turner of Shreveport, La., four daughters, Mrs. Walter Powell, Mrs. Roy Collins, Mrs. Marian Morris and Mrs. Giles Foster, all of Hope, a sister, Mrs. W. D. Downs of Haynesville, La., and a brother, Jerry C. Turner of Hope.

Funeral services were to be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at Sons Hill Methodist Church by the Rev. H. A. F. Ault. Burial by Herndon. Cornelius was in Finley Cemetery.

Local News in Pictures-- At 12 Noon Today in Hope

This morning's torrential rain — still falling in early afternoon — produced these street scenes photographed by The Star at 12:15 p. m.

Above is the Hervey St. underpass carrying traffic beneath the main line of the Missouri Pacific railroad — but the underpass was out of business today noon. It was choked with flood water, and the city's truck and warning sign may be seen on the north side through a pier opening.

VISITORS from England, Miss Betty Washington, left and her sister Mrs. Vera Washington Lambert, right, are renewing old acquaintances here. A few years ago Mrs. Lambert wrote a letter to this newspaper from her home in Chislehurst, England, wanting to correspond with some friends she had known here 50 years ago when she lived in Hope for a time. Mrs. Roy Anderson and several others who knew her answered and they have been corresponding since. Mrs. Lambert came to the U. S. for a visit last November and arrived here yesterday for a visit before returning to England later this month. A small number of her childhood friends gave a dinner for Mrs. Lambert last night at Hotel Barlow. The visitors will leave today for Little Rock to visit relatives.

State Gets More From Oaklawn

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney says betting and attendance figures at Hot Springs Oaklawn Park touched record highs during the spring meet which ended Saturday.

Total betting on the pari mutuels was $15,220,839 compared with $14,435,839 in 1936. Attendance this year came to 271,012 compared with 257,110 in 1936.

Cheney, ex officio secretary of the state Racing Commission, said Arkansas got $65,518.00 from taxation, fees and other revenue during the 1937 meet. Hot Springs will be remitted $69,209.00 of this amount.

The state's take this year was $55,733.33 above the 1936 figure of $69,733.37.

Governor Not Worried Over Tax Take

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus says he sees no cause for alarm because collections of the new 1-cent increase in the Arkansas sales tax have gotten off to a slow start.

And the governor hinted yesterday that the administration might seek to find some legal method of preventing a proposed special election to decide whether the boost should be retained.

Faubus said a discouraging state Revenue Department report that the new tax increase brought in only $17,571 during the last 13 days of February was not unusual.

Southwest Tornadoes Kill 16, 800 Injured; Arkansas Is Alerted

Heavy Rainfall Floods Major Part of State

By The Associated Press

Onrush tornado funnels were sighted in Arkansas states today — and at least one of them caused some damage — as a warning was issued for almost the entire state.

A "small" twister dipped down at the little town of Cash, 10 miles west of Jonesboro, and other funnels were reported sighted in the air near the Little Rock Air Force Base and near the little town of Higginson, not far from Seney.

Joe McCullister of Cash said that he saw the "small" tornado funnel as it picked up water and debris from the fields. He said that a small office building of the River Brand Rice Mill was damaged heavily, some other small buildings also were damaged.

McCullister said that a shed owned by his son, Ed, was demolished.

A spokesman for the U. S. Weather Bureau said that he could not confirm the other tornado sightings, but he said there was no evidence that they touched the ground.

"It looks bad," he said. "This is worse than anything we've had in a long time."

There were numerous reports of ominous clouds, hail, heavy rain and some wind as a severe squall line moved in a northeasterly direction across the state.

Four or five barns on the southwest edge of Little Rock were destroyed by a high wind. W. B. Milam, a resident of the area and an observer for the U. S. Weather Bureau, said that there was no funnel.

Several twisters were reported

Suit Filed to Make Bill a Law

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Montgomery County Rep. Ole Maddox today sued to require certification as a law of his bill to deprive Circuit Judge C. Floyd Huff of his Springs of sole authority to appoint jury commissioners in the 18th judicial circuit.

Gov. Orval Faubus vetoed the bill after it had passed both houses, but Maddox contended the veto was invalid.

Maddox sought an order directing Secy. of State C. G. Hall to have the bill printed as an act of the regular 1937 legislative session.

Hearing was set before Pulaski Chancellor Murry O. Reed for next Tuesday.

The bill would place selection of the jury commissioners in Garland and Montgomery counties, which comprise the 18th circuit, in the hands of the circuit judge, the chancellor and the county judge.

Each would appoint one commissioner. The circuit judge now appoints all three under the law in general application throughout the state.

Earlier, the weather bureau said the tornado was moving southward toward Jefferson, Tex.

Ereel Pyland of Averagor, told Radio Station KENT of Shreveport by telephone, there were no injuries as a youth building was slightly damaged.

Delta Airlines here reported that another funnel was sighted by one of its flights about 36 miles south of Love Field in Dallas. The funnel was near the community of Waxahatchie. The flight, which was enroute to Dallas, returned to Shreveport.

Five were killed in Oklahoma and 14 others were injured there, bringing the two-state death toll to 16. An estimated 800 homes were destroyed in Dallas alone.

At least 170 persons, many of them in critical condition, were injured enough to require hospital treatment in Dallas. The State Department of Public Safety estimated that 600 others were hurt, but not enough to go to hospitals.

A new rash of tornadoes broke out at mid-morning in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. Four and possibly five tornado funnels were sighted in a 50-mile long section from Cleburne, Tex., to west and north of Dallas.

So far, there was no reports of damage from the new tornadoes. At least two of them were believed to have touched the ground. One was reported on the ground near Cleburne shortly after 11 a. m. and another touched ground in a field

Judge Lemley Files for Re-election

Judge W. K. Lemley has filed for re-election to the post of municipal judge, posting his fee and corrupt practice pledge with the Democratic Central Committee.

Thus Judge Lemley becomes the first candidate to officially file for office. The filing deadline was recently set for noon, May 1, by the Central Committee.

The preferential primary election will be held July 30 while the runoff primary is scheduled two weeks later, August 13.

All Around Town

By The Star Staff

The weather is the main topic of discussion in Hope Wednesday and will likely continue to be until frequent tornado warnings have subsided.

The Experiment Station reported only .35 inches of rainfall last night, but that probably fell in only a few minutes.

Although the city itself had very little rain or hail, the area from the Radio Station northward underwent a mild hailstorm about 9 a. m. last night.

hailstones covered the road in the Proving Ground area. It lasted only a few minutes and was followed by violent rains which also lasted only a short time.

Dallas Hardest Hit, Damage to Reach Millions

DALLAS, Tex. — Killer tornadoes whirled slowly through North Texas and Southern Oklahoma late yesterday, crushing hundreds of homes, killing at least 16 persons and injuring upwards of 800 others.

Ten persons were killed in Dallas — the hardest hit city — and more than 700 others were injured. An 11th person was killed in Texas 100 miles northeast of Dallas and black tornado funnels swept on into Oklahoma.

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — The Weather Bureau said a tornado dipped into an area about four miles north of Marshall, Tex., about 11:45 a. m. today. The report said four houses were destroyed and 12,000 volt power lines knocked down.

There was no immediate report of injuries.

Earlier, the weather bureau said the tornado was moving southward toward Jefferson, Tex.

East Prescott HB Club Meets

The East Prescott Home Demonstration Club met on Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Milburn Jones for the March meeting.

The president, Mrs. Hesterly Ward, presided. The meeting was opened with the story of Ruth and Naomi told by Mrs. Jones for the devotional. The secretary, Mrs. Marvin Wicker, read the minutes and gave a financial report. Roll call was answered with "What You Liked About Your Family Physician."

A demonstration on "What is a Physical Examination?" was given by Mrs. Wicker.

At the close of the meeting the hostess served refreshments to nine regular members, two new members, Mrs. N. A. Peters and Mrs. J. Duncan and a visitor Mrs. D. A. McKinnon.

Miss Rich Honored

Miss Evelyn Tackett honored Miss Nancy Rich, bride-elect of Sgt. Donnie Mooney, with a lingerie shower Thursday night at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Tackett.

The honoree received many lovely and useful gifts. Games were played and prizes were won by Shirley Parks and Frances O'Rourke.

Cold drinks and cookies were served to the fourteen guests present.

Modern science succeeded in isolating the curative ingredient, an alkaloid called lobeline sulfate, but found it had some bad effects.

Two years ago Dr. W. G. Rapp and a colleague at Loyola University in Chicago found that a drug called bantrol, which combines the lobeline sulfate with certain antacids, markedly reduced the craving for nicotine and had no bad side effects.

Dr. Rapp said this drug "seems to have merit as a safe and effective aid to curbing smoking, especially if the subject has the desire to stop."

But it remains an individual decision whether the pleasures of smoking taken in moderation, outweigh the possible perils. If the habit is abused.

Dallas Hardest

15 miles east of Denton, Tex. Survivors of yesterday's killer tornado in Dallas were rummaging through their homes today looking for anything they could salvage.

Five of the victims in Dallas were children, ranging from five years to one month old. The latest death victim was two-year-old Milton Lillard who died today at Parkland hospital.

Fathers returning from work went berserk when they found their homes wrecked and families gone and police had to hold them until they calmed down.

A heavy thunderstorm hit Dallas again early today and a downpour of rain moving through with a squall line rained what furniture was left by the tornado in the destroyed homes.

No official estimate of damage had been made, but Asst. Police Chief Jess Curry said it would be more than $10 million dollars.

Unofficial estimates said 800 homes and business buildings were destroyed or damaged.

The tornado lashed out of a black rainstorm an estimated 100 mph, blowing people and cars from South Oak Cliff through west Dallas and northwest Dallas. For 40 horror-filled minutes the lashing funnel filled the dark sky above a frozen city.

Passengers and crew of a Braniff Airlines plane watched from the air as the plane circled after takeoff from Dallas Love Field.

Traffic piled up into fantastic jams all over western Dallas.

"Oh, lawd, it roared down like a freight train and then was on us tearing our house down," Robert Thurman, 31, sobbed. Blood oozed from a wound in his head. He trembled from shock as he sat beside his injured wife at Parkland Hospital.

The hospital was jammed with crying, wailing, bloody people. There were dozens of children, many numb and soaked with blood.

Four of the dead were children, including three in one family. One was a month-old girl and the three brothers and sisters, aged 5, 3 and 2 years.

The funeral was one of a series of sisters which hopped over the state. Other scattered injuries and damage were reported. A wide band of the northwest part of Texas was under a severe weather warning.

Panic rose in the streets as traffic piled up.

"I've got to get out of this jam—it's hitting my house and my wife is home," a tearful old man cried and cried.

Many, simply abandoned their autos, fearing the tornado was heading toward them. Police cars and ambulances, their sirens screaming, fought for passage.

Torrential rains and hailstorms were reported last night at scattered points, and several north Arkansas cities were plagued with flash floods.

No injuries were reported.

The Texas tornado reportedly hit Avenier, Tex., and the funnel was last seen heading in a southeasterly direction toward Jefferson, Tex., and north Louisiana.

Nashville in southwest Arkansas reported a severe electrical storm, heavy rain and high wind but the storm seemed to be abating about 11 a.m. Only minor damage was reported.

Clarksville, Harrison and Russellville reported flash floods and a few residents were evacuated in all three cities. Some schools and factories were closed in north Arkansas because of overflowing mountain creeks.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The U.S. Weather Bureau here issued a new thunderstorm and tornado warning at 10 a.m. today for most sections of Arkansas; southeastern Missouri; Southern Illinois; northwestern Kentucky and western Tennessee.

Specifically, this forecast applies to an area along and 60 miles either side of a line from Tyler, Tex., to Paducah, Ky.

Most of Arkansas is included in the warning area.

The warning read: Severe thunderstorms and tornadoes expected from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in parts of Arkansas, southeastern Missouri, Southern Illinois, northwestern Kentucky and western Tennessee.

Specifically, this forecast applies to an area along and 60 miles either side of a line from Tyler, Tex., to Paducah, Ky.

Probers Aided by Teamster's Secretary

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rack-its probers, it was learned today, are getting encouragement and tips from John English, veteran secretary-treasurer of the Teamsters Union and critic of the unions president Dave Beck.

English, credited with curbing Beck's plans for a million-dollar publicity program, and other spending proposals, was reported to have told Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel for the Senate Rack-its Investigating Committee, to "carry on the good fight" to help rid the Teamsters of any corrupt influences.

Kennedy paid English a visit late yesterday in the palatial $12 million-dollar Teamsters Building. English has the unions No. 2 job, second only to Beck, in the headquarters organization.

Beck, who invoked the Fifth Amendment for two days last week in refusing to tell the Senate committee about his financial affairs, sat only a few feet away in his own office while English and Kennedy spoke, privately in what was described as "a very friendly" session.

Kennedy told newsmen he was leaving the capital for a weeks gumshoeing tour of New York and Chicago, and possibly Seattle, chasing down leads.

The committee has been in recess since the middle of last week. Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) has said hearings on Scranton, Pa.,

Teamsters and building trades union matters are next in line, probably starting April 15.

ARKANSAS WIDOW DIES — Mrs. Hiram Norcross, well known porcelain and glass collector and widow of a Tyronza, Ark., planter, died at a hospital today. She was 78.

Trade Stamps Under FPC Investigation

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The five-man commission may crack down this month on several of the biggest trading stamp companies.

Complaints alleging law violations are awaiting action by the five-man commission which polices business practices, officials said.

They would mean new headaches to a booming 600-million-dollar business already fighting restrictive legislation in several states with ardent help from housewives.

The FPC investigation is not aimed at the basic legality of savings stamps.

The pending complaints are understood to be directed at specific practices of some of the estimates 400 companies which sell stamps to storekeepers and, after housewives have pasted them in little books, provide merchandise premiums in exchange.

FPC spokesmen have no divulged he charges, but the commissions bureau of investigation and litigation are known to have been exploring such questions as these:

Whether the advertising of premiums has been misleading.

Whether unfair methods of competition have been used such as giving on store in an area the exclusive right to offer a certain company's stamps.

Whether any stamp company has discriminated, in setting a price on its stamps, between one store and another.

The use of the word "free" in describing premiums reportedly has been questioned by some officials on grounds that the housewife actually pays for the stamps in added cost of merchandise.

Stewart and Fonda Are Old Friends

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When you talk to Henry Fonda, the conversation is bound to get around to Jimmy Stewart. And vice versa.

Recently I had a long chat with Stewart, and Fonda's name arose many times. So when Fonda came to town to tub-thump his 12 Angry Men, I pinned him down on this famous friendship.

"I'd much rather talk about Stewart than Fonda," Fonda admitted.

Their friendship dates back more than 25 years when both were struggling young actors. Only with Stewart there was less struggle.

Here I was wearing out shoe leather trying to find jobs in New York, and Stewart fell into one role after another," Fonda said.

Both came from the University Players on Cape Cod, spawning ground of Margaret Sullivan, Josh Logan, Myron McCormick, Kent Smith and other names. But Stewart and Fonda never appeared together.

I left the Players the year Jimmy started," Fonda recalled. I had been with them five years and decided it wasn't doing me much good on Broadway. Producers weren't impressed that you and 12 big roles on Cape Cod last summer."

He remembered meeting Jimmy during the New York Christmas week run of the Princeton Triangle Club show of 1931. He went backstage with Logan and McCormick who offered Stewart a summer job with the Players.

He took the job, figuring he'd do it and then go back to Indiana, Pa., and be an architect," Fonda said. Then he got an offer to play a chauffeur in Goodbye Again in New York and took it, figuring he'd go back home afterwards. He kept getting part after part until finally he decided he wasn't going back home.

Both actors climbed to starring roles on Broadway. Fonda's film fame came faster. He was brought here to recreate his starring role in Farmer Takes a Wife," Stewart was signed by MGM four months later and had to work his way up through featured roles.

Retired Worker Can Be Re-employed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A retired municipal employee can be re-employed by the city without losing his pension, an opinion from the attorney general's office said today.

Assistant Atty. Gen. John Haskins said in the opinion that there is no Arkansas law covering the re-employment of a retired person in his former capacity, but he cited an Iowa case as a precedent.

Little Rock Civil Service Director Coy Adams had asked for the opinion in the case of a retired policeman.

DOROTHY DIX

Wage-Earner Wife Has Outlived Usefulness

Dear Dorothy Dix: Eight years ago I married a man with five children. I raised the youngsters worked outside to pay up his debts, put all my earnings towards the home, and never bought myself a thing. He owns the house; I have absolutely nothing to show for my years of work.

Now he has asked for a divorce. I know there's nothing I can do to salvage anything, but my experience may help other women to protect their interests.

MRS. O. M. For whatever consolation it might be to you, hubby is a prize idiot. To let a girl like you get away in unbecoming, then, he has the children raised, the debts paid and I guess you've outlived your usefulness as far as he's concerned.

Now is the time to let loose with some of that grumpton you've kept carefully hidden. A man can't discard a wife at the snap of a finger. Get yourself some good legal advice, pronto. If you think you can't afford it, see the local Legal Aid Society, or consult the Family Service Association in your city.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My boy friend's cousin will soon be married. Do you think I should be invited to the wedding? If I go, should I give a gift? DENISE

Dear Denise: Certainly it isn't necessary for the girl to invite you. The decision will undoubtedly rest on the size of the reception to be given. If you attend the church ceremony only, no gift is required. If you go to the reception, it's usual to send a gift.

Dear Dorothy Dix: The son of a friend of mine recently borrowed a sum of money from me. When I wrote, asking him to return it, his mother replied with a most abusive letter. I suppose I should have overlooked the money and saved the friendship. I've learned two lessons: never lend money, and never write letters that can be misunderstood.

FRANK
Dear Frank: You've learned two very good lessons. Consider the borrowed money tuition.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Why do nice girls have to sit by and wait until the boys they love get through having a good time with other girls?

Dear Myra: They don't! In fact nice girls wouldn't bother with boys who kept the wrong associates. This is a good clue as to the kind of husbands the boys will become.

Robbery Probe to Bring Lie Tests

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., (AP) Lie detector tests for a group of people in connection with a $250,000 jewel robbery were scheduled in Little Rock today.

Police Chief John Emery said that he did not know how many persons would be given the tests but added that they were making the trip to State Police headquarters in two cars.

Jewelry valued at $250,000 and a milk stole valued at $3,500 were taken from the hotel suite here of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lehr last Thursday.

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) A California, Ark., man, sought on 13 charges of robbery and burglary at Lenoire, Ark., has surrendered to the sheriff's office here.

Lt. Frank Esau said Howard D. Everett, 26, gave himself up Sunday night after telephoning from a service station. Esau said Everett was held on a charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Money for Arkansas Airports Available

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government will spend $81,000 in the year starting July 1 to help four Arkansas cities build municipal airports, it was announced today.

The total for this purpose for the nation's $52,265,226.

The Arkansas cities, and the amount of federal aid involved for each:

Russellville, Russellville Airport $40,000; Forrest City, municipal airport $10,500; Rogers, municipal airport $16,750; and Gordon, municipal airport $4,750.

As is customary, local interests will match federal funds on a 50-50 basis. The Commerce Department said that these funds are now available or will be provided.

This is the third of four annual programs authorized by Congress and administered by the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

Besides the national total for the program, the government will spend $2,770,000 on airports in Puerto Rico and Alaska.

Creates New Trend in Television

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP) — Mike Wallace, who directs pointedly personal questions at a variety of persons on a local New York television station program, can now be classed as a phenomenon.

He has created a new trend in television and radio interviewing. The reason for calling him a phenomenon is that most of his imitators around the country have not even seen him in action. ABC-TV plans to rectify his state of affairs, by the way when it puts him on a weekly network interview program beginning April 28.

But Wallace has been so widely publicized that nearly everybody has heard of him. The stories about him emphasize a sensationalism in his questioning.

Word of the spread of this vogue comes from Al Morgan, author of the novel and the movie "The Great Man," who made an extensive tour to promote his movie. He was interviewed by a variety of local TV reporters and radio disc jockeys in many cities.

Wallace's influence is obvious on both television and radio," he said. "Literally everybody is imitating what they've heard are his methods of questioning — most of them without ever having seen him."

The television interviewers are not so bad. But some of the radio disc jockeys are something else. They have asked highly personal questions and used words which they have heard — mistakenly — in Wallace's interviews. As a result, you've never heard so much unrespectful and dirty talk in all your life."

Nons of Wallace's imitators have been as successful as he. The reason is two-fold: he researches his subjects in advance more thoroughly than most other interviewers; and he pursues lines of questioning instead of hopping about haphazardly in the wounded manner so typical of most interviewers. These are his great contributions.

Facts Worth Reading From the Morning Mail

By MAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover estimates 1 out of every 16 Americans has been arrested and fingerprinted, and that for every dollar given to churches, crime costs 10.

That 1 out of 23 American school children has a hearing impairment that slows his learning.

That the original Rin-Tin-Tin, who earned up to $100,000 a year, lived in a small stucco palace complete with electric lights, running water, a radio and silver food trough.

That the latest vanity fad among Broadway men is to have their full names embroidered on their shirtfronts.

That swimmers are less likely to suffer ear infections if they dive into the water than if they jump in Earplugs offer little protection—because most water gets into the ear through the nose.

That because of the difference in the pull of gravity, a person who weighs 190 pounds at the North Pole will tip the scales at only 189 at the equator.

That among ancient remedies for seasickness were such foods as raw pork, red herrings and horseradish soup. But old sailors said the best remedy was "half an hour of rest under a live oak tree."

That prescriptions account for only 20 per cent of the business volume of the nations 55,000 drugstores.

That Andrew Jackson, who is reported to have installed the first bathtub in the White House, is the only U. S. president who ever killed a man in a duel.

That some fellow has figured we now have passed 35 million laws in an effort to get us to observe the original ten commandments.

That persons over 65 have fewer brief illnesses—those lasting less than a week—but twice as many disabling illnesses as those from 15 to 84 years old.

That a survey in 1955 showed 50 per cent of the American people can't drive a motor car, and 14 million families still don't own an automobile.

That it was Mark Twain who observed, "The first half of life consists of the capacity to enjoy without the chance; the last half consists of the chance without the capacity."

Williams Hits at Phony Politicians

By JOE REICHLER
SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox followed up his blast at the Marine Corps, the late Sen. Robert A. Taft and all those other phony politicians' today with a slap at the U. S. government for its treatment of Joe Louis, former heavyweight champion.

Here a guy who has been a credit to his race and his country and look at the treatment he's getting," he said. "I think it's a shame the way he's being hounded for the payment of his back income taxes."

He'll never be able to pay all that money he owes the government. He's stuck for life. The interest keeps climbing every day and there isn't a damn thing he can do about it.

Why doesn't the government make some sort of a settlement with him? Or better yet wipe out the entire debt. If some big phony politician was in the same predicament, they'd allow him to settle it by paying two cents a ble and dirty talk in all your life."

Nons of Wallace's imitators have been as successful as he. The reason is two-fold: he researches his subjects in advance more thoroughly than most other interviewers; and he pursues lines of questioning instead of hopping about haphazardly in the wounded manner so typical of most interviewers. These are his great contributions.

Resignation of Premier in Iran Confirmed

By JOE MORRIS
TEHRAN, Iran (UP) — Iranian Foreign Minister Ali Gholi Ardalan told the United Press today that the government will resign tomorrow. The move is believed to be a result of the slaying of three Americans.

The government has not yet resigned, he said. We are holding our final meeting tomorrow afternoon, after which we will tender our resignations to his royal highness, the Shah."

Gendarmerie sources reported, meanwhile, that three of the bandits believed to have killed the Americans have been slain in a fight with federal police near the Pakistan border in remote southeast Iran.

Although the slaying of the three Americans last week is considered the triggering action which set off the resignations, the underlying reason is the Shahs dissatisfaction with the nation's economic progress under Premier Hussein Ala.

Ala is scheduled to attend a memorial service at midday tomorrow for the three American victims of the brigands. They are Mr. and Mrs. Kevin M. Carroll, of Issaquah, Wash., and Brewster A. Wilson, of Portland, Ore.

The dollar's
Williams' criticism came less than 24 hours after he had been quoted by Crozet Duplantier, executive sports editor of the New Orleans States, as blasting the Marine Corps, the late Sen. Taft of Ohio, former President Harry S. Truman and the entire U. S. government.

The controversial star reaffirmed he had told the New Orleans newsmen he had no use for the Marine Corps, and that he had referred to Sen. Taft as a phony politician."

He denied criticizing Mr. Truman and the government.

Sure I said I had no use for the Marine Corps, the 38-year-old former Marine captain said. I felt that way when they called me back into the service for the second time in 1952 and that's the way I feel now. I resented the way they singled me out because I was in the public eye. I'd have had no squawk if they had called back every reserve officer in the same category.

I'll tell you why they called a lot of us back. They wanted an appropriation of $480,000 from the government for airplanes and they needed pilots to fly them. So they recalled 1,100 pilots who hadn't flown planes for 11 years.

As for Taft, I used to think he was a wonderful man. But I found out he was no different than the other phony politicians.

A friend of mine, without my knowledge, went to see him about getting my release. Taft told him if it were anybody else he would help him, but he couldn't touch me. I was too big. I never asked for any special treatment, but that's a heck of a way to operate."

FAIRY-TALE FUN — Your crocuses and hyacinths may be coming up, but there's still plenty of winter weather in Norway. This snow statue of a bear, with a princess on his head, was carved by a group of amateur artists at the Holmenkollen ski run near Oslo. It represents a favorite Norwegian fairy tale.

Mayflower II Makes It Out of Drydock

By ALVIN STENKOPF

BRKHAM, England (AP) — The Mayflower II floated placidly on waters sleek as a mirror today. But it had a bumpy ride out of drydock last night.

The 180-ton wooden sailing ship, a replica of the vessel in which the Pilgrims traveled to America in 1620, was being loaded with railway iron.

Mor ballast said Stuart Upham, builder of the vessel.

She's lively as a cricket, and about 40 more tons of weight will make her settle into the water the way a proper bark should."

The ship will start for America in about two weeks on a voyage duplicating the historic journey of the Pilgrims.

The vessel was in a drydock. Sea water was let into the dock, and a tug pulled out the sturdy little craft, but his tide was about a foot below its normal height and Mayflower II rolled over on the blocks.

But she wasn't hurt, and we're not even sending divers down to see, Upham said. We don't build ships of this kind this way. The ship rolled over on its side, but it didn't hurt anything.

Cmdr Alan J. Villiers, the Australian sailor who will be the skipper, gazed rapturously but impatiently at the little three-masted ship—80 feet long and 26 feet wide.

Mayflower II is not yet dressed in its sails. But it was a dainty spectacle, its brown hull, striped with black, white and green, gleaming in the sunshine of a fine spring day.

Spill around the Dead Sea is so filled with salt that it cannot be tilted until it is washed.

and Betsy's keeper, Ben Gary, were her champions for the round of appearances which began with two national television appearances today.

Watson also may buy Betsy a mate before returning to Baltimore Thursday.

On the train trip here, Betsy exhibited the sweeping motion which has won her acclaim in the art world. (and brought the art world to painting.) She usually rubs her head against the window of her drawing room.
